Special Reciprocal Alliance With The Directors College and Université Laval

A national standard in university accredited professional governance education has been created by the reciprocal alliance of two Canadian university programs. Under agreement by The Directors College—a joint venture between The Conference Board of Canada, the DeGroot School of Business at McMaster University, and the Collège des administrateurs de sociétés (CAS) of Université Laval, the director education designations "Chartered Director" (C.Dir.) and "Administrateur de Sociétés Certifié" (ASC) are recognized as equivalent.
