

Hope Air is a Canadian national not-for-profit. For over 30 years, Hope Air has arranged flights to get low-income Canadians to the healthcare they need. There are three key methods of obtaining the free flights which are provided to Hope Air's patients:

- Hope Air purchases airfare on commercial airlines with the generous support of our donors. Approximately 70% of Hope Air's flights are purchased with donated funds.
- Hope Air has many incredible airline partners who donate seats on their flights
- Hope Air is proud to have the support of volunteer pilots who use their personal aircraft to fly patients to their appointments.

We are currently recruiting for an energetic and enthusiastic board member who is eager to make a meaningful contribution. An ideal candidate would possess some of the following skills:

- Be passionate about the Hope Air story
- Possess an entrepreneurial skill set
- Have not-for-profit board member experience
- Have a large network which could be leveraged for fundraising
- Have either:
  - Digital media marketing expertise; or
  - Human resources expertise, to assist with succession planning and key management development, as well as to assist generally and with input on volunteer programming and compensation
- Provide greater geographical, ethnic, cultural, academic/professional, or gender diversity on the Board
